PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dr (Major) Bishwadeep Paul

President, IAOH National Body (2023-25)
President, IAOH Mumbai Branch (2021-23)

Respected Chief Guest, Dr Pallavi Saple, Dean - Grant Medical College & Sir JJ Group of Hospitals; Dr Rajesh Dikshit, Director - Centre for Cancer Epidemiology; Dr Laura Beane-Freeman, Chair EPICOH SC; Prof Sara De Matteis, Secretary EPICOH SC; IAOH Past Presidents, members & office bearers; invited dignitaries, post graduate students, ladies, and gentlemen.

On behalf of the Executive Committee, I extend a warm welcome to you all to EPICOH 2023, the 29th Symposium on Epidemiology in Occupational Health incorporating the 71st Annual Conference of the Mumbai Branch of 'Indian Association of Occupational Health' (IAOH). I am honored and privileged to address you all today in multiple capacities – that of the newly elected National President of IAOH, as the President of IAOH Mumbai Branch and as Secretary Scientific Committee of EPICOH 2023.

IAOH Mumbai Branch is indeed privileged to host EPICOH 2023 – the very first time that India is hosting this international academic feast. The Scientific Committee on Epidemiology in Occupational Health (EPICOH) of the ICOH has as its main function, promotion of communication among epidemiologists, industrial hygienists, and other occupational health scientists worldwide. EPICOH provides a forum for the discussion of problems unique to the study of health and work.

With membership open to occupational epidemiologists and other scientists worldwide, EPICOH provides a variety of forums for discussions, critical reviews, collaborations, and education on issues of occupational exposures and their human health effects. The theme for this year's Conference is 'Occupational Health Epidemiology: Need for Concerted Action'.

To foster the study of health and work, EPICOH encourages and supports the following:

- Epidemiological studies on the health effects of occupational exposures
- Communication among epidemiologists, industrial hygienists, toxicologists, exposure analysts, and other occupational health scientists worldwide.
- Innovative approaches to substantive or methodological problems and applications of occupational epidemiology
- The use of occupational epidemiology to inform public policy
- Involvement of scientists from lower middle-income countries (LMIC) in EPICOH activities, reduced dues for members from LMIC and establishment of regional EPICOH chapters throughout the world.
- Recognition, acknowledgement, and facilitation of the role of early career researchers.

We are very happy to join hands with Tata Memorial Centre's Centre for Cancer Epidemiology for organizing EPICOH 2023. CCE is one of the few centres globally which has the potential to contribute to the full range of cancer control activities. I am sure that the Pre-Conference Workshop conducted at CCE Navi Mumbai on the topic "Research methodology at the Workplace for young OH Professionals & early career researchers" has been extremely useful in developing capability among young professionals. The Round Table discussion at the same venue on March 14th, 2023, on "Global Collaboration on Creating Research Opportunities for Occupational Cancer in LMIC" was conceptualized to provide a platform to recognize available knowledge and expertise to lead and guide actions urgently needed to galvanize research in the field of Occupational Cancers in developing countries.

Diverse technical experts from India and overseas, and key stakeholders discussed relevant issues and research gaps in the sector while discussing the barriers and enablers. We aim to come out with a white paper to identify and set priorities for relevant and focused research in the LMICs.

I would advise our delegates to seize opportunities during this Conference to meet and network with the global faculty and young professionals in OH epidemiology to establish meaningful connects and global collaboration. This hybrid conference besides Plenary, Symposium & Panel Discussions; includes a rich feast of 258 paper presentations over 3 days that includes 171 oral presentations and 87 poster presentations by delegates joining us from 39 countries across the Globe. All the delegates would be able to see the presentations streamed live over the next 3 days as well as their recordings for the next 1 month on the online platform www.epicoh23.in.

It has been a great experience to work alongside my wonderful colleagues at IAOH Mumbai Branch and build valuable partnerships with our EPICOH Management and Scientific Committee. With a strong legacy and valuable contributions by IAOH stalwarts, we enter an era of engagement and collaboration within India and internationally, with various stakeholders - including academia, government, and hospitals – to further our vision and strengthen Occupational Health practice and research within India. This work carried out by our young team serves as a great experience for the ICOH 2027 Congress in Mumbai India which will showcase India to the Global OH community.

To conclude, I thank all members of the Executive Committee and Advisory Board for their support and guidance for all activities of the Branch over the past 2 years. I sincerely thank my entire team comprising of my Vice Presidents - Dr Divyang Shah and Dr Joel Samuel, Hon. Secretary - Dr Neetika Chauhan, Hon. Treasurer - Dr Naresh Jhamnani, and all the Executive Committee working in the background for their meticulous planning and support for activities through the year. Special mention goes to my team members at Procter & Gamble, Mr Ajay Kakadiya and Ms Brinal Braz for their unstinted support. I also thank EPICOH 2023 Chair Dr. Shrinivas

Shanbhag and Organizing Secretary Dr Ashish Mishra for giving me the opportunity to be Secretary of the EPICOH 2023 Scientific Committee and contribute towards planning and organization of this Conference.

I am grateful to all Organizations, Institutions and Hospitals who have provided us with Scientific Education Grants throughout the year in our endeavor to propagate Occupational Health.

Lastly, I am indebted to my family and to the executive management of Procter & Gamble (P&G) for supporting me in carrying out my duties as President of IAOH Mumbai Branch.

Wishing you all a memorable next 3 days at this Conference! Thank you.

ABOUT MUMBAI BRANCH

Workers engaged in the industry face hazards by way of their occupation. These can be in the form of accidents and occupational diseases. Bernardino Ramazzini, the Father of Occupational Medicine was the first person to propound this idea. Development in the field of Occupational Medicine occurred at great strides with the industrial Revolution.

The concept of Occupational Medicine has undergone a sea change since then. Currently, the trend is towards Occupational Health rather than Occupational Medicine, with its multiple facets which encompass a variety of other disciplines apart from medicine.

Virtually speaking, the foundations of this science in India, were laid down by three distinguished personalities - Col. J. R. Kocher, Major R. C. Tarapore & Lt. Col. Najib Khan. These men had been working with Tata Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., at Jamshedpur. They formed an organization under the name of Society for the Study of Industrial Medicine in 1948. The activities of this Society were initially confined to Jamshedpur. Though later, thanks to the efforts of Dr. H. P. Dastur, Dr. J. C. Patel, Dr. A. D. Daftary, Dr. Lobo Mendonca, Dr. L. D'Souza & Dr. N. M. Pant, the Bombay Branch of the Society was formed in 1952.

The rapid changes occurring in the field demanded a befitting name and so it was decided to change the name of the organization to the Indian Association of Occupational Health. The title denotes a wider array of activities within its ambit. There is greater emphasis on the health-related problems in a wide range of occupations covering all those who are gainfully employed, be it factories, farms, mines or plantations, railways, ships, aviation office etc.

The Indian Association of Occupational Health, Mumbai Branch has been active in the field since its inception 63 years ago. The passage has not been smooth; there have been obstacles every now and then, but they have been surmounted. We have indeed been fortunate to have a team of devoted people who have served the cause of Occupational Health well and in process earned laurels for the country.

Dr. P. V. Thacker, Ex-Chief Industrial Health Officer of TATAS was the first Indian to be elected on the Boards of the Permanent Commission & International Commission on Occupational Health. He was the Chairman of their Scientific Committee on Occupational Health in Developing Countries. Dr. J. C. Kothari, renowned Chest Physician, has been the President of the Asian Association of Occupational Health. Both have served on many Special Committees appointed to look into the health problems of the working class at the State and National levels.

The XII Asian Conference on Occupational Health was held at Bombay in November 1980. The branch has been in the forefront conducting various activities viz. Scientific meetings, Seminars, Conventions, Factory visits, Publishing a journal, Training sessions, etc. The Scientific meetings are convened to address relevant topics which have a bearing on the occurrences at the workplace. Faculty from abroad as well as local experts address these gatherings.

The annual convention is usually held in the first half of the year. Efforts are made to encourage participation of industrial physician as well as those professionals interested in Occupational Health. These act as source to update one's knowledge & get acquainted with the recent trends in this speciality. Periodically conducted factory visits help to demonstrate the effectiveness of an efficient Occupational Health service.

There was a collaborative effort with some of the public sector companies viz, SAIL, ONGC, IOC for an Advanced Training Program in Occupational Health with an International update in December 1994.

Many of our members are invited as guest faculties for various training courses arranged by the Central Labour Institute, National Safety Council etc.

K.M. BHANSALI MEMORIAL ORATION

To commemorate the meritorious services of late Dr. K. M. Bhansali, the branch has instituted a Memorial Oration. Dr. Bhansali's contribution to the growth of our Association & for the cause of Occupational Health has been an outstanding one.

Through this donation the "J. C. Kothari Endowment" has been established for the promotion of Occupational Health activities in India. "The J. C.
